INTRO

VERSE 1

Your hair is soft and shiny, your beard is awfully neat Your eyebrows are so tidy, to smell you is a treat You look so terribly spiffing, you always steal the show

You fill my heart with laughter when I'm feeling low

VERSE 2

D Your humour is so super, you really make me smile You're a man of information, and as sweet as Tate and Lyle D7 We have so much in common, we get along so swell I love kissing boys, and you love that that as well

MIDDLE

We'd really make a handsome pair Except in one detail

If only you liked women or if only I were male

VERSE 3 We'd throw some splendid parties invite our friends to dine Eat continental cheeses and drink the finest wines Our home would be delightful, I think it's safe to say A D We'd get along so famously it's too bad that you're gay
